Take Off the Fat Where It Shows

Most women suffer much humiliation because of great quantities of fat, so located that, no matter how they dress, everybody sees that they are abnormal. This is the day of the slender figure, and fat women are simply not tolerated either in business or social affairs. Women may not know it, but men when they see a fat woman pass then on the street make all manner of sympathetic remarks about her. They do not mean to be unkind or to seem unmanly, but it is natural for a man to dislike fat on a woman. Where fat shows the most there is where it must be removed, and as quickly as possible. The hot weather dresses seem to be made for the fat woman's misery and the slender woman's delight. They expose all the charms of woman and her ugliness as well. Exercise and diet will not remove fat. This has been proved. The famous Marmola prescription which has met with such phenomenal success and has so many of our society women as its sponsors, is now being sold in tablet form to meet the demand of the public for this style of treatment. These little tablets go into your system just like food. They stop the stomach and digestive apparatus from producing fat and reduce the fat upon the body at the rate of from 12 to 15 ounces a day. They are harmless and can be carried in your purse and taken even after you have indulged in a hearty meal away from home. They are sold at all drug stores at 75 cents a case, or if you prefer you may write the Marmola Company, 731 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich.

JEFF SPENDS THE DAY OUT FISHING

Reno, Nev., June 30.—At Jeffries's camp there was absolute peace today. The former champion arose at the usual hour and, after breakfast, went off on a fishing trip with Jack Wooley, an old friend.
"And when Jeff goes fishing he goes fishing," said one of his trainers. "He doesn't think of fighting or training or anything else."
The general impression around camp was that Jeff would not do a tap of work today.
Charlie White, of New York, yesterday selected as second referee, arrived here this morning.

En route from Bisbee, Ariz., to Detroit, Mich., where they will attend the national reunion of the Elks, an automobile carrying two Bisbee Elks is expected to arrive in El Paso Thursday afternoon or night, completing the first leg of the long trip. The automobile left Bisbee Wednesday and is appropriately labeled. The tourists expect to distribute considerable literature advertising the southwest, and incidentally Bisbee. Information that the tourists are en route to El Paso was received by Garnett King, assistant freight and passenger agent of the Southern Railway. The travelers will be entertained by local Elks during their stay in El Paso.

SUES D. G. BALDWIN BECAUSE OF A FIGHT

In the damage suit of T. J. Callaghan, filed in the district court clerk's office Thursday, $3,000 is asked as compensation for a beating the plaintiff claims he received at the hands of David G. Baldwin several months ago.
He claims his nose was mashed, a gash cut over the right eye, one on the right cheek and that his side and left lung were injured permanently by kicks, administered after the defendant had the plaintiff down.
He states that he has been incapacitated from work and was furthermore in a feeble condition at the time of the alleged assault. He asks $5000 actual and $5000 exemplary damages.
Plaintiff was working for Baldwin when the fight occurred.

SERUM THAT WILL CURE DREADED MENINGITIS

Has Been Received in El Paso and Will Be Given Test by Local Doctors

A specimen of the new serum for cerebro-spinal meningitis has been brought to El Paso for the first time for the treatment of this dreaded disease, which in the past has been the despair of the physicians. Six vials of the serum have been received here by a local physician from the Rockefeller Institute in New York for the treatment of a case of meningitis. The patient died before the serum arrived and an opportunity has not yet been had to use the treatment, which was invented by Dr. Simon Flexner, of the Rockefeller Institute, and Dr. Jobling.

The serum, which superseded a vaccination treatment which was the only other attempted remedy for the disease, is similar in use to the anti-toxin serum used in the treatment of diphtheria. It is obtained by injecting the germ of meningitis into the spine of a horse which immediately acquires a pronounced case of cerebro-spinal meningitis. In the horse there is an anti-toxin in the serum of the blood which neutralizes the poison of the meningitis germ which was injected into the spine. This resistant serum is then drawn off from the horse and is injected into the patient's spine by means of a puncture in the spinal canal. Before this injection is made as much of the spinal fluid as possible is drawn off to make room for the anti-toxin and also to remove as much of the disease laden serum as possible. Where the spine for any reason cannot be punctured the treatment is injected directly into the brain of the patient.

Of the cases in which the serum treatment has been used the percentage of recoveries is 75, and according to the observations of a number of physicians who have used the recently discovered serum, the death rate was as low as 22 percent, the age of the patient and the length of time which the patient had been a sufferer making a difference in the average. However the treatment can be used with almost as good results days after the disease has been discovered as when it is first noticed. The injections can be given by any physician, according to the local physician who has received the first shipment of the serum. The treatment consists of four injections following each other at intervals of 24 hours. Should the patient not show favorable symptoms the treatment is repeated. Of all the cases under the observation of the physicians who have been using this treatment in the east, there have been only a very few who have shown any disability after recovery from the disease, thus refuting the common belief that meningitis leaves the patient with paralysis or some other serious disability.

A supply station has been established in Tucson and also one in Denver for distributing this serum for the treatment of cerebro-spinal meningitis (circular meningitis yet remains as one of the incurable diseases), and an effort is being made by local physicians and specialists to have a supply station established here where the life saving serum may be obtained.

ASKS OFFICER TO STOP DOG FIGHT AND IS ARRESTED.

James Marr Taken to Police Station, But Released Once Officer is Now on Suspension

As a result of a dog fight on San Antonio street James I. Marr was arrested by patrolman Skaggs on a charge of disturbing the peace. A bull dog was injuring a puppy and Mr. Marr, who was walking with his wife, called upon patrolman Skaggs, who was watching the fight, to stop it. He says the patrolman assaulted him and took him to the station, where he was again roughly handled. He was immediately released on his own recognizance by night chief Ten Eyck. Mr. Marr will carry the matter before the police commissioners.

VISITOR COMPLAINS OF THEFT; WOMEN ARRESTED

While taking in the sights of the red light district, J. O. Manley, who claims he is from Globe, says he was robbed of $520 late Wednesday night. City detectives started an investigation Thursday morning and arrested three women, one of them white. She gave her name as Zelma Parker and the negro women as M. Carton and Genevieve Beebe. They all claim to know nothing about Manley or his money, but are locked up at the city jail. They had no money when searched at the station. All three are inhabitants of the reservation.

Mrs. Guy E. Lake and Children, of Dallas, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Parsons and Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Means, of North Stanton street, for a few weeks.
